To Whom It May Concern

Re

RAYMOND HATCH

Ray Hatch has worked for Seaworks International Limited since September 2000. Mr Hatch has previously worked for Seaworks on several occasions and was invited to rejoin the Company upon the acquisition of the Cable Lay Vessel "MV Searanger.

Mr Hatch is employed as a deck hand and his duties include assisting with launch and recovery of the submersible SeaStallion 2 plough, general fibre optic cable handling and vessel maintenance.

Mr Hatch is a qualified diver with considerable experience and at times his skills are utilised to carry out inspections and underwater maintenance on the ships hull and propellers.

He is always keen to assist and relates well with other crewmembers. Mr Hatch is a hard worker and always strives to achieve a high standard in any task. He forms an integral part of an efficient team. Mr Hatch is self-motivated and is safety conscious, he is an asset to the vessel and the overall operation.

I hope that Mr Hatch will remain a member of the "Seaworks Team" for some time to come and I have no hesitation in commending him to any future employer and am pleased to provide this unqualified testimonial
