To Whom It May Concern:

Ray Hatch was employed by Jurgens Contractors who were engaged as sub-contractors to demolish parts of the Methanex MTG Plant during 2003.

The project so far has been enormously successful. The work has been very efficiently carried out and more importantly to our company, there have been no serious injuries or environmental incidents.

Ray has provided first class leadership to one of the two Jurgens teams. He has led by excellent example and taught others as we have progressed. One of Ray's strengths is that he will not be hurried beyond the pace he knows, by long experience, to be safe. Those who know the importance of this, value it greatly.

Ray has given us some (very safe) dramatic demonstrations of his skills. On complicated heavy or high drops, he always makes the final cuts to ensure complete success.

I hope we are able to obtain the benefit of his knowledge and skills on future stages of the project.
